constitution and the Union of the States, by means of civil war, is the object and aim of se misguided fanatics, whose proper place is either in bedlam, or State prison, or on a gallows high as that which suspended Haman.

THE ELECTION OF LINCOLN AND POLITICAL COMPLEXION OF THE NEXT CONGRESS-ADVICE TO THE FINANCIERS.—There is no question of a doubt but that the recent election in Pennsylvania settles the Presidential question and places Abraham Lincoln in the Presidential chair. Our New York merchants and financiers may as well look this fact fairly and squarely in the face, for no other version can be placed upon the result in the Keystone State. The best thing that they can now do is to lock their money up in their vaults and keep it out of the hands of the politicians. The republicans need no funds or speakers, and their opponents caunot change the result with the fortunes of a Rothschild. The jig is up, gentlemen, look at it as you will.

The only thing now left for the friends of the constitution and the Union is to look after the Congressional districts, and secure a delegation in the lower house of Congress that will keep the republican administration within bounds Let New York do her duty in this respect, and Mr. Lincoln will find both branches of Congress composed of his political opponents. It will be seen from the returns from Pennsylvania and Ohio that the republicans have already lost several Congressmen in those States. The delegation from the former State in the present Congress stands twenty straight republicans, three anti-Lecomptonites, who could be relied upon by the republicans in any emergency, and two democrats. The next delegation stands nineteen republicans, with one district in doubt, and no anti-Lecomptonites as aids, but five democratic opponents. The delegation in the present Congress from Ohio stands fifteen republicans and six democrats. That State has returned only thirteen republicans, and has elected eight instead of six democratic members. Here we have a change of rix, and perhaps seven, which gives the next Congress to the opponents of the republicans.

There is likewise a prospect of a change in three or four districts in New England, Several of the leading republicans in this State have already admitted that they should lose at least aix members of Congress in New York. Let all of those who have money to spend on elections use it in the Congressional contests, if at all, and follow up the advantage already gained. instead of throwing it away on the Presidential contest, which has been already decided. This is the only practical thing left for the conservative voters.

NEWS FROM THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Slow the Result of the Recent Elections is Received—Important Decision of the At-torney General, &c., &c. Washington, Oct. 11, 1560.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11, 1569.
The election news from the different States is taken very quistly by good society in Washington. Defeat is nothing new to the old line whigs, who compose a large portion of the best company in metropolitan circles. The few Douglastics have never expected anything favorable gas. The Breckinridge men, atrong in the consciousness of their power in fifteen States, and of possessing the sympathy of all conservative men in the republican States, are confidently looking to New York. The President, occupied with his daily work, receives the bulletins, which are industriously transmitted to him, with dignified composure. The excitement is allogether at the clubs and associations. Old residents and habitation ctube and associations. Old residents and habiticate accustomed to alternate triumphs and over-throws, and neither produces a sensation. It is throws, and neither produces a sensation. It is comme if fact to be tranquil, whatever happens. The talk about the agitation in clerkdom, on account of the prospects of Lincoln, is all gammon. The clerks would be safer with either Lincoln or Bell than with They have enjoyed such immunity, under the example will establish a precedent which no President can ignore or diaregard. If men are prescribed fo pinion's sake, the prescription will begin March 4, 1861.

Senator Sidell was prevented by an affection of the an address to the people which condenses the whole argument of the South, whether as to men, measures or principles, and is thoroughly ocnservative. The style is sententions, almost epigrammatic, and presents the Southern case in lights that cannot be darkened. THE PRINCE OF WALES BALL IN NEW YORK.

Our demoirelles, who ought to have been invited to the Prince's ball, do not believe that he will enjoy himself half as much there as he did on the revenue cutter ing up from Mount Vernon to the Arsenal. Our bono would be better for him and his posterity if he could.

The Missouri and Western Telegraph. Sr. Leurs, Oct. 11, 1860.

At the annual meeting of the Missouri and Western Tele graph Company in this city to day, C. M. Stebbins, J. H. Lightner, A. C. Goodin, J. H. Ladin, J. H. Wate, Auson Stager and Iraac R. Elwood were elected Directors. At a subsequent meeting of the Directors the following gentlemen were elected officers:—Charles M. Stebbins, President and Treasurer; Robert C. Clowrey, Superintendent and Secretary, and Wm. R. Stebbins, General Agent. The company's lines have done a profitable business the past year, and it is thought when the extension to Fort Kear ney is completed-as it will be this month-a large in crease of patrousge will ensue. The company has decide to build at least two hundred miles west of Fort Kearney next year, and will commence as soon in the spring as the weather will permit. Should the Pike's Peak gold region offer favorable inducements, the company will extend their line to Denver City next sesson

MAKINE COURT—SPECIAL TERM. Before Judge Alker. E. Harrison Reed, formerly an Alderman of this city,

E. Harrison Reed, formerly an Alderman of this city, and a member of the famous "atump tailed," swill milk investigating committee of the Common Council, was charged with an assault and battery on Harlen P. Halsey, for which the latter brought an action, laying his damages at $600—the bighest amount in the jurisdiction of the court. The parties, it seems, were members of controlling delections. of the court. The parties, it seems, were members of contending delegations from the Twentieth ward to the Seventh District Republican Congressional Nominating Convection, which met at No. 285% Eighth avenue on the 28th of September last. Mr. Reed appeared to argue on behalf of his delegation, and he is said in referring to the conduct of a Mr. Bulkley, a member of the other delegation, to have stated that Mr. Bulkley did not attend to certain ward association duties on account of speculating in real estate. Reed's delegation was successful in obtaining seats, but Roed himself resigned his position to a friend and left the Couvantion. On coming down the stairs to the reading room of the building, which is the republican headquarters of the Sixteenth ward, the word "stemp-tail" was called after him by a voice which a witness testified was that of the plaintiff, Mr. Haley. The remark was also made that the "stump tail" delegation had succeeded. Subsequently in the reading room Mr. Halsey mounted a table, where he is alleged to have said, holding his hat over Mr. Reed, "What do you think of a man who, to gain a point, weuld charge a gentleman with speculating in real existe instead of attending to his duties, when the only real estate business he was concerned in was the purchase of a lot six by four to bury his dead father in." These remarks incensed Reed, who, rushing at the speaker. four to bury his dead father in." These remarks incensed Reed, who, rushing at the speaker, struck him in the face, exclaiming, "You lie, you soundre!." The defendant claimed that the blow was given with the elerched fat, that it broke out one of his front teeth and blackcood his eyes. The defendant alleged that the blow was given with the open hand, and his council outsided that no such isjurious results could have resulted from a blow of that kind. The jury gave a verdict of $75 for Halsey. Edward Gilbert appeared for plaintiff, and Ambrose L. Pinney for defendant.
